Program: “Clinical Education, Coordination and Nurse Navigation project (CECaNN)”

Program Summary:

The California Health Collaborative will expand its successful community-based breast cancer navigation and support program (Clinical Education, Coordination and Nurse Navigation (CECaNN) Project) from the current rural Northern California counties of Butte, Colusa, and Plumas to include individuals in Glenn & Tehama counties. A breast health team consisting of a Program Manager, Nurse Navigator and Care Coordinator will assist a minimum of 120 rural uninsured / underinsured individuals overcome barriers to care including 1) poor access to and/or compliance with recommended screening, diagnostics and treatment, 2) limited knowledge or understanding of breast cancer care continuum, and 3) financial barriers to obtaining a cancer/no cancer diagnosis. Project participation will be available to low-income, medically underserved clients who are high risk or with abnormal findings, as well as low-income, medically underserved diagnosed breast cancer patients.
